

Republicans Routed At Polls Tues.

ROOSEVELT, BROWN AND MURPHY ELECTED

County Smashed Vote Record In Numbers

Election day is now past history and leaves behind a trail of democratic victory. Crawford county joins the state and nation in the sweep to democratic success. Majorities exceeded the fondest hopes of the most optimistic of the democratic party.

The day dawned and in vain did the republicans of Crawford county look for bright skies; instead they got dark clouds, rain, sleet, light snow and wind. Indeed it was typical democratic weather as far as tradition is concerned. And it proved true in substance as well as form and when the voting began they laid down the most terrific democratic vote barrage this country has ever experienced. Hardly a section of the nation escaped its formidability.

President Roosevelt's political strength carried with it to victory practically every candidate on the democratic ticket. The republicans saw their stalwart leaders mown down right and left. Brucker, Fitzgerald, Dickinson, Atwood, Crowley, Toy, O'Hara and others fell by the political wayside. Such records of victories and defeats had never before been experienced in this nation or state.

Over 1500 votes were cast in the county, which is about 200 more than cast at the last presidential election. A record of about 900 votes cast several years ago in the village of Grayling and Grayling township was exceeded in the city of Grayling alone by about 50 votes, while the township polled about 140 votes, making a total of nearly 1100.

Congressman Roy O. Woodruff, republican, beat out Wm. J. Kelly by a good margin. Miles Callaghan, republican, defeated T. George Sternberg for state senator. William Green, republican, the present incumbent, lost in the race for representative in the state legislature to Frank B. Buza, democrat. John C. Shaffer, republican, for circuit judge, won by a large majority.

In the county Frank Bennett, republican candidate for sheriff, led his party ticket with 1032 votes over Lawrence Hunter, democratic slip candidate who received 403. Ronnow Hanson, democrat incumbent and candidate for register of deeds, led all candidates with 1075 votes over Carl Peterson, republican, who received 362. Axel M. Peterson, democratic incumbent and candidate for county clerk piled up a big vote for clerk over Austin J. Scott, republican, 1011 to 442. Judge Charles E. Moore, republican, won over Clayton McDonnell, democrat, 887 to 539.

A tabulated report of just how each township voted appears below. All amendments were severely treated by negative votes in each case. The nos had it all the way down the line.

APPRECIATION

Even though I was not elected to the office of Judge of Probate I cannot but have keen appreciation for the votes I did receive. I too appreciate the compliment paid me by the pupils of my good old Alma Mater—Grayling High School in the school election.

Clayton McDonnell.

Elected United States Senator

I. W. L. To Elect Officers Nov. 14th

CLUB BOASTS OF 75 MEMBERS. EXPECT 150.

Organization of an Izaak Walton League chapter in Crawford county is meeting popular favor everywhere. The need of such an organization in the midst of a great recreational region, such as we have in this county, is one of the finest movements we have promoted. We need the backing of this national and state organization if we hope to get the utmost out of our resort and conservation possibilities.

Royal A. Wright who has taken a leading part in organizing a chapter here, says that already 75 people have enrolled for membership and that he expects that in time this is going to be the largest chapter in the state. Many outsiders who come here for resorting and recreation are enrolling in the local chapter, feeling that it is to their own interest as well as ours to have a chapter here.

Every effort has been made to keep the local organization open until our membership had reached fifty. Now that there is an enrollment of about 75, a meeting is being called for the election of officers. Every one who has an interest in the league is urged to be present at the meeting November 14th. Definite plans as to where the meeting will be held will be announced in the Avalanche next week.

If you are not already a member, application blanks are in the hands of the local committee or may be had at the Avalanche office. Membership in the league is $2.50. With it comes a year's subscription to Out-Door America.

Womans Club

The first regular meeting of the Woman's club was held Monday evening, November 4th, at the home of Mrs. Esbern Olson.

Following the business meeting the Club was entertained by the following program:

President's Greetings—Mrs. Ernest Hoesli.

Report of past activities of Campfire Girls and discussion of future plans—Mrs. Edgar Flory.

Demonstration by Campfire Girls.

From the demonstration given by the two groups of Campfire Girls, under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Stealy and Mrs. Edgar Flory, the club gained a knowledge of the importance of work done among the girls in our city during the past year.

The Woman's club is sponsoring the Campfire Girls and it is through the untiring efforts of Mrs. Flory and Mrs. Stealy that the work has been successful.

The meeting next Monday evening will be at the home of Miss Margrethe Bauman.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Miss Laura Johnson was hostess to fourteen of her friends at a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Giegling Friday evening.

Witches and skull and bones and pumpkins and the various decorations that are used on such occasions were cleverly arranged through the rooms. Partners for lunch were drawn from a huge spiderweb. The boys started with a black cat and as they unraveled the web found the name of the young lady they were taking to lunch on a pumpkin.

There is no holiday of the year more interesting to the younger folk than Halloween and this was one of the delightful affairs given on that night.

THANKS

I am more appreciative than ever for the fine vote accorded me at the polls Tuesday when I was re-elected county clerk. Also the pupils of the High School come in for their share of this thanks for the fine vote they gave me in the school election. I want each and everyone to know I am very grateful.

Axel M. Peterson,
County Clerk

Friday evening Mrs. C. G. Clippert entertained several friends at a birthday dinner for her husband, Dr. C. G. Clippert. It being Halloween, a large, lighted pumpkin centered the long table around which the guests were seated.

BROWN-SWITZER

Friends of Miss Dorothy Switzer and Mr. Carlyle Brown, will be pleased to learn of their marriage, Sunday evening, at the home of the former's brother, Clyde Switzer, at Prescott, Mich.

Rev. Harvey Good, of the Church of the Brethren, read the marriage service and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Switzer, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were the attending couple. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Switzer, parents of the bride, Henry Switzer and Miss Elvina Richter, completed the bridal party. Following the services the young couple left on a brief honeymoon trip through the southern part of the state, after which they will return to make their home in Grayling.

Mrs. Brown is a graduate of Grayling High School, in the class of last year, and although she has not resided in Grayling long, she has made a great many friends.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Andrew Brown and has resided in this county most of his life. The Avalanche joins the many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes for a long and happily wedded life.

WYTHE-CODY

Simple but very pretty was the marriage service of Miss Virginia Cody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Cody, and Mr. William Wythe, son of Mrs. Susan Magoun, which was solemnized Sunday, at 12:30 at the Mission Memorial church. Rev. Edgar Flory officiated.

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of orchid silk and her corsage was of orchid-colored baby chrysanthemums. Her sister and only attendant, Miss Helen Cody, chose for the occasion a floor length frock of white silk marquisette with a tiny red figure and her corsage was of red roses and white carnations. Paul Lippert, of Higgins Lake, attended the groom.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. King, George L. Miller, and Billy Karnes, of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clough, of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Fuller, daughter Marjorie and son Harold, and Mrs. Eva Fuller, of Battle Creek. Besides the members of the immediate families, many friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

Following the services, the bridal party was honored with a lovely dinner at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, with guests including only members of the Miller and Cody families.

Hunter Spare That Road Sign

"On Hunter, spare that sign," was the theme of an appeal this week from State Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner.

The commissioner received reports from all over the state of hunters using highway signs for practice targets. The more expensive reflectized signs, apparently are favored as targets. The commissioner was informed.

I am appealing to the hunters to spare the signs. They are not only expensive to the state but also very dangerous from a public safety viewpoint. Most of our signs are turning missiles. If they are destroyed accidents can be expected to increase. I realize that the hunters who have been making targets out of our signs have no malicious intent but we would appreciate it if they were a little more thoughtful.

and Stephen Jorgenson. Covers were laid for 19 guests at a table centered with a beautiful wedding cake. Miniature doves and white and gold replicas of flowers formed a very dainty trimming and a tiny replica of a bride and groom added the final touch. To Mrs. Virgil Clough, of Traverse City, goes the credit for the making and the decorating of the wedding cake.

Shortly after the wedding dinner the young couple left for a few days' honeymoon at Camp Wash-koda.

Mr. and Mrs. Wythe have a host of friends who extend congratulations and best wishes for a long and happily wedded life.

THE LANGUAGE OF YOUR HAND

By Leicester K. Davis
© Public Ledger, Inc.

HOW often you meet interesting people, socially or in business, whose true traits and character you would give almost anything to see delineated. This isn't difficult if you are on speaking terms with the language of the hand. But before you attempt a verdict, be sure that you are familiar with the characteristics of type.

The Temperamental Type of Hand.

Graceful symmetry is the outstanding feature of this type. The fingers, particularly, impress the observer with their smoothness and delicate modeling from root to nail tip. Hands of the temperamental type are in general quite small, though there may be exceptions to the rule; are plump but not over-fleshed and have a responsive, resilient feel when grasped.

The fingers of this type are of moderate length in proportion to the length of palm, which is usually neither square nor elongated, but rather full and oval in shape. The thumb, like the fingers, is well proportioned, of moderate length, and in many instances has a markedly tapered nail joint, with the joint below it of unusual slenderness and sometimes corseted in appearance.

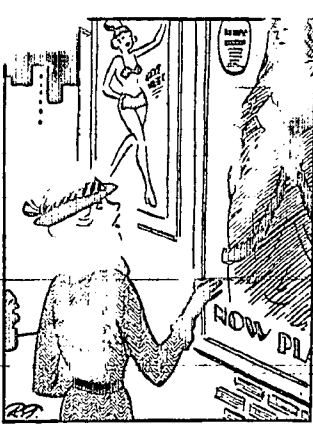

The firm hand of the temperamental type indicates the emotional, dramatically inclined, artistic man or woman, with far greater endowments along these lines than average. But if overfleshed, the indications are that indolence and love of ease will be serious drawbacks to emotional and artistic expression.

Possessors of the temperamental type of hand are natural artists and actors, who, although they may never follow their natural inclinations, nevertheless are only truly happy when in an artistic or "dramatic" environment.

ONE-BUCK LAW IN EFFECT 16 YEARS

The one-buck law, which has helped to build up Michigan's deer herd to its present large size, will have been in effect 16 years during the open deer season this fall according to conservation authorities here.

One of the principal worries of game men during this time has been the maintenance of the herd, but in spite of the heavy annual shooting of bucks, they say, the sex ratio still appears quite safe.

On the basis of some values made by conservation officers in the deer country during July and August of this year, it has been learned that the buck-to-doe ratio in the upper peninsula is about one buck for each two and a half does; in the lower peninsula, one buck for each three and a quarter does.

"This would seem a safe ratio," comments I. H. Bartlett of the game division. "Deer are polygamous and it is estimated that one buck will service as many as six does during a mating season. If this is true and the sex ratio remains as reported, there seems little need for worry as far as the supply of bucks for breeding purposes is concerned. But as long as the one-buck law is in effect, the sex ratio bears careful watching."

FRAUD ACCIDENT PLEA USED BY RACKETEERS

"Don't wire case in response to an emergency message signed Cousin Elmer," even if you have a cousin Elmer. That is, don't part with your money until you investigate.

This is the advice of Lieut. Van A. Leominis of the detective bureau of the Michigan State Police, who has been directing a search in a dozen counties for racketeers who are making phony accident telegrams pay.

The trick, according to Lieut. Leominis, is to obtain the name of a relative of a person with money. Later, this person will receive a wire signed with the relative's name, stating the need has been in an automobile accident and requesting ten, twenty-five or fifty dollars at once.

In nine cases out of ten, the apparent urgency of the request from someone dear results in prompt dispatch of the money. The racketeer appears at the distant telephone office with forged credentials, collects and moves on.

A telephone call to the usual address of the "accident victim" in such cases would avert loss. Establishing the request as a fraud, a tip-off to local or state police may result in apprehension of the perpetrator.

DEER GET FAT ON ACORNS

Acorns are making sleek, fat and healthy deer for the army of red-clad hunters who go into the woods soon.

Game workers who have come back from the woods are commenting about the fine looking specimens of the northern white-tail deer they have seen. They believe their plump appearance is largely due to the customary fall diet of acorns, of which there is an abundance in many places.

Mainly, vegetarians in food habits, the deer will feed heavily on acorns when they can get them, as will the elk in the Pigeon river state forest area northeast of Gaylord. This apparently rich food item prepares the animals for the hard-going of the winter months.

"Deer have been known to pay through light snows for acorns, but when the heavy snows come this cannot be done," commented I. W. Bartlett, deer investigator of the department of conservation. "The deer then confine themselves to conifer swamps where other types of food are available. Around in late February and early March usually this food becomes scarce and the deer begin to feel the pinch of starvation. A rich diet of acorns would probably be more than welcome to the deer then, but it's just not on the bill of fare."

RED CROSS HIGHWAY POSTS AID INJURED

1,000 Function At Key Points To Give Emergency Care To Traffic Hurt

Highway first aid stations, set up by the Red Cross to give emergency care to victims of traffic accidents, are saving lives, according to James L. Fieser, vice-chairman in charge of domestic operations.

"More than 1,000 of our emergency posts are already operating in 17 states and thousands of others will soon be established at key points along America's highways," Mr. Fieser stated.

The Red Cross highway posts are concentrated at danger spots in rural areas where medical aid is not readily available. The importance of this coverage of the open road, the Red Cross holds, is given sharp emphasis by the fact that there has been a 150 per cent increase in rural traffic fatalities during the past twelve years.

The project was initiated last year on a national scale as a practical approach to the highway accident problem. The Red Cross felt that it could best apply its strength by succoring those who continue to be injured pending a reduction in the highway accident rate through legislation and safety education.

"Our program brings first aid skill to the scene of accident in an effort to reduce the number of persons killed and maimed in automobile mishaps," Mr. Fieser said. "Our highway first aiders are not medical men in any sense, but it is their job to turn the injured over to the medical profession in the best shape possible."

The Red Cross highway posts are established at gasoline service stations, tourist homes, rural police and fire departments. The personnel of the posts are trained by the Red Cross in first aid, standard first aid equipment is installed at each station and identifying signs for the benefit of motorists are erected beside the highway at both approaches to the station.

The attendants of these roadside units who qualify as first aiders volunteer their services through the Red Cross and may undergo circumstances accept pay for training for the injured.

To eliminate the highway first aid

The Red Cross has in mind formation of mobile units. Several thousand trucks which regularly ply the highway in the course of routine work will be equipped with first aid kits. Drivers and crews will take courses in both standard and advanced first aid and each truck will be identified as a Red Cross mobile unit. More than a hundred trucks are already operating.

"The highway police of eight states who have finished first aid training will join this army mobile force to cut accident fatalities and prevent complication of minor injuries through mishandling at the scene of accident," Mr. Fieser said. "We receive reports from our first aid stations daily, telling of essential care given to traffic casualties on the spot and of lives actually saved."

This and many other Red Cross programs of equal value are supported by the people of America during the annual Roll Call for members. This year the Roll Call will be held from November 11 to 25.

NEW STAIRWAY TYPE FIRE TOWER AT FREDERIC

Four new fire towers of the easy-to-climb stairway type are to be erected by conservation authorities with the help of CCC workers this fall.

The sites selected are: Floodwood north of Sagola in Dickinson county; Walsh between Seney and Shingleton, Alger County; Frederic, south of Deward in Crawford county and South Presque Isle north of Atlanta in Montmorency county.

Visitors to Michigan who get nervous when climbing fire towers, will find the new type a little easier to negotiate, authorities stated.

Bulldog Originated in 1650

The bulldog is said to have originated as a distinct type in 1650. The dogs of that period were high in body, massive-bodied and huge as a mastiff we view today at the shows. Around 1850 the bulldog was bred down to be a low animal in the front. This was done, most likely, by those who wanted him that way to bait with the bull.

"Now I Lay Me—"

This child was hurt when a tornado struck Tupelo, Miss., necessitating medical and nursing care for hundreds—care which in many cases could not have been given without Red Cross assistance. It is a fine tribute to the organization that the young beneficiaries of its health and relief services invariably place themselves in the hands of the Red Cross with a completely confident, "Now I lay me—"

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

by Thornton W. Burgess

A DEN OF ROBBERS

WHEN Billy Mink started to explore the big barn in the farmyard where he had decided to stay for a while he didn't know that he was entering a den of robbers. But that is what he was doing. Yes, sir, that is just what he was doing. You see, that barn was the home of ever and ever so many of the tribe of Robber the Rat, and each one of them, big and little, was a robber. They lived by robbery, which, you know, is another name for stealing.

Those robbers had lived in

They Become Robbers as Soon as They Can Run About.

that big barn so long that they had come to look on it as belonging to them. They knew every nook and corner and cranny in it and under it. The farmer who owned it had tried his best to drive them away. But those robber rats simply laughed at all his efforts. They were smart. Robbers often are quite as smart as honest people. They were too smart for that farmer. All those rats belonged to the Brown Rat tribe. Not that they were all brown. The fact is, the older ones were quite gray. But that was because they were old and had grown gray with age.

Not all rats are bad. There are Brush-tail the Wood Rat and Mice the Trade Rat and their families. They are honest and respected by their neighbors. But all the Brown tribe are cut-throats, despised by all the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest, and hated by man. There is no good in them. They become robbers as soon as they can run about—and they remain robbers as long as they live. There is not an honest hair on one of them. They hate the sunlight, for their deeds are deeds of darkness. They are savage.

But with all this, they are clever, very clever indeed. They are so clever that in spite of all man's efforts to kill them their tribe has increased until it is probably the largest tribe of little people who wear fur in all the world, excepting the Mouse tribe.

The farmer who owned that barn had set traps of many kinds, but the wise old leader of the rats had found each trap and warned all his relatives. The farmer had tried to poison them, but somehow their wise old leader always knew where the poison was and warned them against it. A cat had been brought to catch them, but the tough old fighters among the rats had driven the cat out.

So the rats had increased and the greater the numbers the more they stole. They gnawed holes wherever there was a chance of getting food. They got into the farmer's house and did great damage there. In the spring they killed young chickens in the henhouse. They stole eggs. In fact, these robbers did about as they pleased and the big barn was their den.

To Build $30,000 Sportsmen's Hotel

DETROIT MEN AT HEAD OF PROJECT

Work will soon begin on the construction of a new $30,000 sportsmen's hotel here within a few days. E. W. Ducker, of Detroit, is in Grayling at this time and has let a contract to the National Log Construction Co. for the construction of the hotel.

This will be known as "The Sportsman," said Mr. Ducker, and will be of the most modern design for this type of hotel. It will be located on U.S. 27 a short distance north of the city, on the 10 acre tract of land opposite the offices of the National Log Construction Co.

The hotel will have 19 rooms all with connecting baths, dining rooms, grill where liquor will be served, a sporting good store and auto service station. It will be 121 x 54 feet in size, two story and basement, and constructed of Air-Lox logs made here in Grayling. Blue prints of the plans have just been completed. The designs are very attractive and pleasing, and the very last word in modern design.

Mr. Ducker says that he and his associates intend the place to be one of high order and service. Free bus service will be provided for their patrons and everything done to make their guests comfortable.

Work will begin on the construction at once and it is hoped to have the place in operation by the time winter sports start. Mr. Ducker says they have searched the state over and feel that they have selected the best location anywhere to be found in Michigan.

Mrs. Minnie Isenhauer enjoyed a week end visit from Mr. and Mrs. William Waldbauer, and Mrs. William Smith of Bay City, and Sunday James Lynch of Mt. Pleasant was also her guest.
